

Field Day Fridays

at the National Butterfly Center

Everyone is welcome to join us for fun, field education throughout the summer. No need to pre-register, just come prepared to explore and enjoy the outdoors.

Outdoor Adventure Awaits!

Time: 8:30am - Noon Fee: $5 per person

- FRIDAY, JUNE 12 Hike the Hackberry Trail in search of scat & tracks. Learn about healthy habitats and how to create your own haven for wildlife.
- FRIDAY, JUNE 19 Backyard Buddies: Get familiar with the creatures that live where we live; whether they are helpful or harmful; and how to co-exist.
- FRIDAY, JUNE 26 We're going on a BUG hunt! Use our binoculars and field guides--or bring your own--and see what insects, reptiles, birds and animals you can see at the NBC.
- FRIDAY, JULY 10 It's all about the butterflies, as we focus on butterfly anatomy and behavior, butterfly families, species identification, host and nectar plants, and how we depend on pollinators.
- FRIDAY, JULY 17 Survivor South Texas teaches basic skills and first aid for dealing with real world injuries and dangers in the wild. Special attention will be given to snakes, so you may distinguish "friend from foe."
- FRIDAY, JULY 24 Camping 101 is a class for anyone interested in pitching tent and planning their own sleepover under the stars. This hands-on skill-building session includes s'mores!
- FRIDAY, JULY 31 Wildlife photography workshop includes an introduction to digital photography, a photo scavenger hunt, inexpensive wildlife blinds and our nature photography contest. No fancy equipment required!
- FRIDAY, AUGUST 7 Hide & seek at the NBC features games animals play. Learn about "breadcrumbs" and camouflage, trail signs and stealth, cardinal points and geocaching.
